Dear Mr. Cherniavsky

Greetings. I am a scholar of theatre history. I greatly enjoyed reading your book Maud Allan and her Art. I have been inspired to investigate the social significance of Allan and other "exotic" dancers from the beginning of this century. I am working on an article that I hope to publish in Theatre Journal, and I wanted to get permission to reproduce some images from your book:

- 1) "Munich newspaper illustration" pg. 33
- 2) "knodder" of the "Salome Dancer," pg. 71

Would it be possible to reproduce these images in an academic article?

Hoping to hear from you soon

Erik Weissengruber
